René Bouvier has a plot of 2 hectares of clay- limestone soil , stony and well drained, with vines over forty years. After handpicking the grapes, partial vinification is made, aged for 18 months in new oak barrels to third parties. This results in an elegant wine that embodies the fine wines of Gevrey-Chambertin, with a nose of black fruits and spices and a velvety and fruity taste. It is quickly ready to drink, or cellared for approximately ten years.
